

Peter Wessel (S): Functionality needed? – somebody must be paid while people are dying

Lecture about what data ambulance staff needs in emergencies and exemplification of the impact of deficiencies in the data. The staff will need access to timely and quality assured data about kinds of obstacles on the way. Barriers of different types such as cost, difficulties in processing and distribution chain, up to date and other quality deficiencies, different types of standards and last but not least, the public sector's responsibility in this area. Especially the relation between mapping authorities, road authorities and municipalities will be particularly emphasized.
